

Equine Health Screening

Miniature Equine Therapy Standards Association (METSA) is a member-based organization that promotes and encourages safe practices and sets standards for miniature equine-facilitated activities and therapies, so educators and medical and therapy professionals can have peace of mind and confidence in the equine therapy teams they partner with for their equine facilitated activities. To qualify with METSA all therapy teams must pass an extensive qualification evaluation and every equine must be evaluated by a licensed veterinarian and pass the health screening.
